GE 1.5T HDX--14X thru 23X
The HDX is one model year below the HDXT and still uses the CXK4. With some electronic and software upgrades, this can become an HDXT (which is common, as mentioned above). 14x software is standard for this MR. Because most of the differences between the HDXT and the HDX are software-related, the price difference will not be extreme – and you'll still get the advantages of a 16-channel system.
